WealthBriefing Hong Kong Awards 2015

ERI scores in the "Transaction Processing Solution" and "Portfolio Management" categories

ERI, with its OLYMPIC Banking System software package, has won in the Transaction Processing and Portfolio Management categories at the Hong Kong awards ceremony organised by WealthBriefing, the online journal and news website.

WealthBriefing explained: "Our winner impressed with their system as well as the scale of its uptake by financial institutions world-wide. Its flexibility for added features and project success rate left a positive impression on our judges from the banking sector" (Transaction Processing) and "It was the flexibility and the apparently more seamless nature of our winner's product that animated judges in their favour (Portfolio Management)".

Commenting on the awards, Adrian Williamson, ERI Singapore said: "We are proud to receive these prestigious awards, which are designed to recognize the best players of the global private banking, wealth management and technology sectors."
